2024-25
PARENT CHANGE WORKSHEET

COMPLETE WITH BLACK INK ONLY.

You changed the parent information originally reported on your Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) to a different parent's information. Federal regulations may not allow us to accept this change. To determine if this change can be accepted, complete this worksheet and return it to our office so that we can continue processing your federal financial aid.

Information Regarding Reporting Marital Status and Parent Determination

Consistent with the Supreme Court decision on the Defense of Marriage Act (DOMA), same-sex couples must report their marital status as married if they were legally married in a state or other jurisdiction (foreign country) that permits same-sex marriage. This decision is applicable to independent students and parents of dependent students.

FAFSA guidance for dependent students:

Which parent should include information on your FAFSA? PLEASE READ BELOW - this has changed for 2024-25.

- If your parents are separated or divorced, your parent for FAFSA purposes is the one who provides the greater portion of your financial support, even if you do not live with that parent. If that parent is remarried as of the date you filed your FAFSA, both your parent and your stepparent must complete your FAFSA.
  - If neither parent provides you with financial support (you do not receive any financial support from either parent), your parent for FAFSA purposes is the parent who provided the greater portion of your financial support in the most recent year you did receive parental financial support.
  - If your parents have always provided an equal amount of your financial support, your parent for FAFSA purposes is the parent with the greater amount of 2022 income and/or assets as of the date you filed your FAFSA.
- If your legal parents are unmarried and living together, both parents must complete your FAFSA.
- If your parent was widowed and has remarried as of the date you filed your FAFSA, both your parent and your stepparent must complete your FAFSA.
